Credit Controls On Lower-
Priced Homes Are Relaxed

IS GIVEN VOICE VOTE

Bill Now Goes To Senate,
Which Passed It
Without Rider

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—A modified version of the Administration's defense housing bill was passed by the House yesterday. The House added a rider that would relax credit controls on lower-priced homes all over the Nation.

The bill was passed by voice vote. It now goes back to the Senate, which previously had passed the measure without the credit control rider. If the Senate balks at the rider, the whole measure will be tossed into a conference committee which will seek to work out a compromise.

The bill authorizes a two-year program of Federal Loans, grants and mortgage guarantees to provide additional housing and community facilities in areas suddenly overcrowded by defense workers.

The credit rider, approved by voice vote, would forbid the Federal Reserve Board to require down payments greater than 10 per cent on homes costing less than $10,000, or down payments greater than 20 per cent on homes costing less than $12,000.

Veterans who buy homes under GI Bill of Rights loan guarantees would have to pay no more than six per cent down on homes costing up to $12,000.

Republicans won initial victories on two other amendments designed to water down the bill, but were defeated on the final showdown.

The House first tentatively approved, 109 to 95, a GOP amendment to limit the program to one year. But the full two-year period was passed.

PEACE TALKS

By Howard Handelman
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)
UN BASE NEAR KAESONG, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The Korea armistice conference set up a streamlined subcommittee today to "meet around rather than across a table" in an effort to crack the stubborn buffer zone deadlock.

The eight-man committee, including two delegates from each side plus staff members and translators, will hold its first meeting at 11 o'clock Friday morning (9 p. m. Thursday EDT), in what an Allied spokesman termed an "almost cozy" atmosphere.

While it seeks to end the stalemate which has kept the Kaesong parley motionless for 16 sessions, the formal conference itself will be suspended until it is summoned to meet again by mutual consent.

Waning hopes of ending the costly Korean war were revived Thursday when the Communists accepted a United Nations proposal for creation of the subcommittee. It was the first agreement produced by the Kaesong talks since an agenda was adopted in mid-July.

The Allied spokesman, Air Force Brig. Gen. William F. Nuckols, stressed that the subcommittee will work as informally as possible. The committeemen will engage in give and take, off the record discussions, rather than the stiff speeches, he said.

"LEARN-TO-SWIM" PROGRAM ENDED

Seven Hundred Children Took The Course In This Area

COURSES WERE FREE

The "Learn-to-Swim" program of the Bristol District, American Red Cross, for 1951 has been completed. This is the third year that the children of Bristol and vicinity have had an opportunity to participate in this valuable Water Safety Program.

The enrollment jumped from 540 in 1950 to 700 in 1951 which proves the popularity of the program with the children and its importance in the eyes of parents. The children participated in Beginner Classes, Intermediate Groups, and a small number earned the coveted Junior Life Saving badge. All courses were supplied without charge.

Mrs. Donovan Fagans, Water Safety Chairman, and her committee, in the early summer explored the swimming needs of the community's children, secured pools, and scheduled classes. The great volume of paper work necessary to get this program under way was supplied by volunteer workers at the Lower Bucks County Branch, Office of the American Red Cross, 435 Radcliffe street, Bristol.

The swimming program ended with a canoe and surf-board demonstration at the pool at St. Francis School, Edgington, when the certified Red Cross instructor, Mike Rand, of Philadelphia, showed the

AIRPLANE CHARTER SERVICE OPERATING

Charter Service Out of Bristol One of The Fastest-Growing Businesses

20-25 FLIGHTS WEEKLY

An airplane charter service out of Bristol is one of the newest and fastest growing businesses of this section. Starting on a small scale, giving service at a minute's notice to executives, engineers, and others of the area, the business has "mushroomed" to the point where there are an average of 20 to 25 flights a week from the 3M Airport, Bristol township. There have been as many as 10 flights in one day, the firm mainly doing executive flying for the vital defense plants in this area to vital defense plants in other sections of the country.

This activity is carried on by the Engle Flying Service, of which Harold Hayden is manager. Hayden, a native of Monroe county, has lived in lower Bucks County for 10 years. Now residing at Newtown, he formerly lived at Humesville. He has been in the aircraft field for 10 years, and as he puts it "learned the hard way."

Seven planes at the field are owned by the Engle Service, and three of these are used for charter trips. All three are Cessna four-place planes. The other four are light training planes, as a flight school is also in operation at the 3M Airport.

Two pilots care for all the charter trips, and may be faced with a call at any hour of the day to New York (La Guardia Airport), Pittsburgh, Scranton, Washington, or other points. The pilots take off whenever visibility permits. The longest jaunt for chartered trip from the local field was Charleston, S. C. "Our service, however, is mainly of the 'connective' type," states Mr. Hayden. "We can, in quick time, fly individuals to any of these airports for connections with planes making long jaunts."

The calls are frequent to New York

A SERMON BY MAIL

For years you have been reading about the so-called "flight of industry" from Pennsylvania.

You have heard, from time to time, the pros and cons of the question of whether our state government ought to encourage industry, or ought to saddle it with high taxes and heavy restrictions.

You have heard it said—and heard it denied—that "manufacturing is the keystone of the keystone state." Likewise with the assertion that "what helps industry helps everybody."

The fact of the matter is that industry in Pennsylvania is under constant temptation to move elsewhere. There is keen competition between this area and other parts of the U. S. A. for possession of the plants which, in a moment of inspired oratory, a Pennsylvanian once described as "the Commonwealth's crown jewels."

Every cent additional taxes, or every non-essential piece of regulation, which is loaded on industry in this state makes the temptation to try a more congenial atmosphere elsewhere all the more urgent.

But nothing tells this story quite as well as one of the letters which the mailmen bring, day after day, to those who are trying to do business in the Keystone state. Read the following authentic letter, and let it speak for itself:

"Blank Company,
"Bristol, Pennsylvania.
"Attention: President.
"Gentlemen:

"In the vent you contemplate moving a part of your industry south, Blacksburg, South Carolina, extends to you a cordial invitation to consider our community for location. FIVE HUNDRED NEW INDUSTRIES HAVE MOVED TO CAROLINA IN THE PAST FIVE YEARS. There are many things

AWARD CONTRACT FOR ROLLING MILLS

Mesta Machine Co., Pittsburgh, Will Construct Four Major Rolling Mills

FOR FAIRLESS WORKS

The Mesta Machine Company of Pittsburgh, announced today the award of contracts for four major rolling mills for Fairless Works of United States Steel Company, located in Falls Township. These units are in addition to the contract for an 80-inch hot strip mill previously announced.

The four new mills are: a 45-inch by 90-inch universal slabbing mill, a 48-inch five stand four high tandem cold reduction mill, an 80-inch four stand four high tandem cold reduction mill, and an 80-inch four high sheet temper mill.

The contract includes the engineering required for the arrangement of all the mechanical and electrical equipment for mills and services, excavation and piling drawings, all reinforced concrete foundation drawings, piping drawings for all services of mill and motor room equipment, arrangement of control and operating stations, and field construction drawings for conduit and bus layouts.

The new 45-inch slabbing mill is designed to roll the largest ingots ever poured for the production of strip. The ingots will go to 40,000 pounds with a maximum width of 78 inches. The most powerful slabbing mill ever constructed, it will require 16,000 horsepower to drive it. To handle the tremendous tonnage which can be rolled on the mill two ingot buggies instead of one will be used for the first time on this type of mill.

The five stand 48-inch cold reduction mill will be the fastest of its kind in the world. On production of steel strip for tin plate speeds up to 7,000 feet per minute are anticipated. This will mean that

Mario Lanza Coming To Grand Theatre Here

With what is undoubtedly the greatest array of singing talent ever brought to the screen, M-G-M's "The Great Caruso" emerges as a triumphant drama of the life and career of the immortal tenor, Enrico Caruso—a story replete with touches of humor, romance and the dramatic fireworks that are part and parcel of the backstage operatic world—coming to the Grand for four days starting Friday.

Metro's young singing star, Mario Lanza, who has won a firm place in the hearts of film fans after only two previous pictures, is ideally cast in the Caruso role, both from the point of view of his magnificent singing voice and his ability as an actor. Ann Blyth enacts the young society beauty who became Mrs. Caruso, while the wide array of musical interludes in the new production enlists the services of such renowned Metropolitan Opera Company stars as Dorothy Kirsten, Jarmila Novotna and Blanche Thebom, with such additional artists as Teresa Celli, Nicola Moscona, Giuseppe Valdengo, Lucine Amara and Marina Koshetz appearing in the striking opera montage sequences.

The dramatic story content of "The Great Caruso" would make this an enthralling entertainment even without its brilliant musical highlights. Opening with scenes in Naples, Italy, in which the boy Caruso is shown in his early voice training as a choir singer, the narrative depicts his ill-fated romance with the daughter of a materialistic businessman, the progression of his career in opera, and his explosive debut at London's famed Covent Garden, a debut marked by a duel of wits and voices between Caruso and the company's haughty and temperamental diva. Next comes the rising tenor's American debut at the Metropolitan Opera House, an event considerably less auspicious than the London triumph, due in part to an antagonism toward Caruso by the wealthy and arrogant "Met" patron, Park Benjamin. It is Benjamin's daughter, however, with whom Caruso falls in love and eventually marries, despite her father's opposition.

RIVER SPANS SET THE HIGHEST JULY MARKS ON RECORD

Burlington-Bristol and The Tacony Bridges Are Much in Use

1,003,130 VEHICLES

Bridge Here Takes in Revenues of $38,485.28, Showing Big Increase PALMYRA, N. J., Aug. 16.—The Tacony-Palmyra and Burlington-Bristol bridges set the highest July traffic and revenue marks in their history last month.

Fred C. Norcross, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Burlington County Bridge Commission, said that the spans produced revenues of $265,176.53 during July. This was an increase of $34,370.13 or 14.89 per cent over the same month a year ago.

The July traffic count totaled 1,003,130 vehicles, an increase of 140,698 vehicles or 16.31 per cent.

During the first seven months of this year, Norcross said, the spans earned revenues of $1,299,281.08. This was a gain of $223,428.86 or 20.77 per cent over the same period in 1950. Vehicles crossing the bridges during this period totaled 4,785,541, an increase of $23,317 vehicles or 20.78 per cent.

The seven-month report, Norcross added, listed the Palmyra span's revenues as $1,093,919.75, an increase of $174,987.10 or 19.04 per cent. The bridge's traffic count for this period was 4,022,900 vehicles, a gain of 640,191 vehicles or 18.93 per cent.

Revenues on the Burlington-Bristol span, from Jan. 1 to July 31, totaled $205,361.33. This was a gain of $48,411.76 or 30.87 per cent. A total of 762,641 vehicles crossed the bridge, an increase of 183,126 vehicles or 31.60 per cent.

Since Oct. 23, 1948, when the commission acquired the spans for the county, revenues of $5,101,232.61 have been produced. During this time, 18,830,599 automobiles, trucks and buses have traveled over the bridges.

A breakdown of the July report follows:

Tacony-Palmyra bridge: Revenues, $226,691.25, an increase of $26,862.60 or 13.41 per cent; traffic, 856,911 vehicles, an increase of 110,496 vehicles or 14.80 per cent.

Burlington-Bristol bridge: Revenues, $38,485.28, an increase of $7,507.53 or 24.24 per cent; traffic, 146,219 vehicles, an increase of 39,202 vehicles or 26.93 per cent.

TOURIST CLASS LUXURY

Arriving in New York the other day on her maiden voyage,
the Holland-American liner Ryn-dam marked an innovation in ocean travel. Of the 854 passengers she carried, there were accommodations in a penthouse for but 39 first class, whereas the ship was designed to and did bring more than 20 times as many passengers in low-cost tourist accommodations.

The distinction between tourist accommodations on the Ryndam and on other vessels is that the tourists have almost luxury treatment and the whole run of the ship. The relatively few first-class passengers are restricted to a narrow area.

One-class passenger vessels are not unknown, but for the most part the passengers get what steamship men know as something bordering on "austerity" treatment. The first-class berths were installed on the Ryndam for a particular reason. Under steamship conference rules they constituted it a two-class vessel, whereby the line was able to charge much lower rates across the Atlantic than if it had been a one-class ship. Holland-American officials expect their innovation will be copied and mark "a new era in ocean travel."

Many Americans, who have been dissuaded by prevailing high costs from taking long coveted European trips will join in that hope. If ocean travel in real comfort can be generally cheapened,
they will welcome the opportunity,
particularly as when once aboard
they will find the buying power of the dollar greater than at home.

COAST-TO-COAST TV

What's the difference between telephone poles and television poles? Answer: About 30 miles.

Television on a coast-to-coast
network in September will follow the first similar radio network in 1926 and the first transcontinental telephone circuit in 1915. After the event of September 30 there won't be much left to do except to put in the color.

If moving pictures can be rendered three-dimensional without too much trouble on the viewers'
part, maybe the little images on the TV screen will some day seem to come right out into the living room.

If that is the ultimate in the communications technique there is still a long way to go, which may be just as well for sensitive people who wouldn't want Kukla, Fran
and Ollie running all over them.

This radio-relay system will do much more than to bring Hollywood vaudeville direct to the Atlantic Coast. From hilltop to hilltop microwaves will carry telephone and telegraph messages in such volume as to double the capacity of present facilities.

boys of the school safe ways to Certificates issued from the headquarters of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter at Philadelphia

eventually will go to the children who passed the courses. Standards for certification are necessarily high since these were not play courses, but were planned to protect the youngster from dangerous accidents while in swimming. Mr.
Rand feels that perhaps the greatest value to the child participating is that he loses his fear of the water and acquires a "waterproofing."

The success of the courses can be measured in the words of one parent who said that "I wouldn't have believed it, if I hadn't seen the progress—the instructor was patient... my daughter used to be afraid of the water and now she is floating and swimming."

House Passes Housing Bill With A Rider

was restored in a later roll-call of 188 to 184.

Similarly, the House first voted 134 to 124 for an amendment by Representative Albert M. Cole (R, Kans.) to strike out a $10,000,000
revolving fund for the Government to buy up land, for re-sale to builders, where speculation threatens to make housing sites sky-high in price. The authority was restored to the bill later by a vote of 199 to 175.

The House earlier approved a compromise $6,200,000,000 independent offices appropriations bill after defeating a proposal which President Truman said would have killed the Government's public housing program.

Last spring the House voted to limit to 5000 the number of public housing units which could be started in fiscal 1952. The Housing Act authorizes 135,000 units, but Mr.
Truman asked for only 75,000 to save defense materials.

After the House voted the reduction, the President appealed to the Senate to kill the "tragic" limitation. The Senate then set the quota at 50,000—the figure accepted by the Senate-House committee which drafted the compromise appropriations bill.

that make our town a desirable location for industry, but I wish to call your attention to only three.

"In the first place, no community in America can offer better people than Blacksburg, South Carolina. The industry we have is highly pleased with the quality of our people, who are happy to give an honest day's labor for a fair day's pay.

"In the second place, South Carolina has good laws. A careful study shows that our laws have always favored industry, and we invite you to compare them with the laws of any other state in the Union.

"In the third place, Blacksburg is located in a unique position with regard to transportation and power. Highway 29 and a double track of the Southern Railroad both pass through our community. We are also favored with two large creeks, as well as Broad River on which is situated two Duke Power stations. The Transcontinental Natural Gas Line passes through the center of our community.

"You are cordially invited to reply on the enclosed card or contact the State Research and Planning Board in Columbia, South Carolina, which will be glad to furnish you with detailed information concerning the industrial sites in and around Blacksburg."

"Yours truly,

EEDOM'S GETS TWO IN FINAL TO WIN GAME

Two runs in the final inning gave Eedom's a 4-3 triumph over the league-leading Hunter-Wilson aggregation last evening in a Bristol Industrial League game on the latter field.

The distillery workers had a 3-2 edge going into the seventh when the rug-makers scored twice on a walk to Crossan, singles by Bailey and Bidlingmaier and an error.

In the sixth, Angelo rapped out a mer with Crowley on base to put Hunter-Wilson in the lead.

A sensational catch by Hall prevented the distillery workers from leading the score in their final inn with the stick. Hall robbed tefans out of an extra base hit with is catch and as an error followed, tefans would have scored without doubt.

EAGLES CLINCH THE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Eagles clinched the championship of the Bristol Boys League by scoring an 11-6 win over Franklin last evening on Memorial Park baseball field. As the Eagles also won the first half, there will be no playoff games and the remainder of the schedule will be canceled.

Franklin had but two hits off Joe Galdi. One of these was a home run with the bags loaded by George Virgulti in the fifth. Galdi struck out 11.

Pat Dougherty, of the Eagles, slammed a homer with the bases bare in the fourth for the Eagles.

CIAMBELLI'S HOME-RUN AIDS JEFFERSON TO WIN

A home run by Manager Al Ciambelli with one on base helped Jefferson A. C. to defeat the Auto Boys team last evening on Memorial Park softball diamond. Final score was 7-6.

Ciambelli's four-base clout came in the fifth inning after Gus Centonze had singled the left. The hit took a hop over Wallick's head and rolled to deep left field.

Both teams made thirteen safe blows in the contest. Manager "Jim" Capucci did the pitching for Auto Boys with John Ciambelli doing the twirling for Jefferson.

Horace Saxton, Fred Clotti, and John Ennis were the only players in the game who did not have a safe base blow to their credit. Horace Tranter had a double and two singles for the losing combination.

a continuous strip of steel three-quarters of a mile long can be rolled in thirty-five seconds.

The 80-inch four stand cold reduction mill will incorporate the latest in engineering design and its 21,550 horsepower makes it the most powerful mill of its kind. The 80-inch temper mill will be powered to operate at a speed higher than has been attempted previously for sheet products.

Work is in progress on all of these mills. The first to be delivered will be the 48-inch five stand cold reduction mill which is scheduled for shipment late this fall.

Mesta Machine Company of Pittsburgh, has been outstanding in the development, design, manufacture and construction of rolling mills for producing quality steel at high speeds. As the result of long experience in this field, Mesta's installations in the new plant at Morrisville will embody all the most modern features known to engineering science.

York and Baltimore—these being for executives anxious to save time on business trips. Announcement yesterday that contract had been signed by Kaiser Metal Products, Inc., with Glenn L. Martin Co., to manufacture wings for the Canberra twin-jet light bomber, reminded Mr. Hayden of the many trips made during the past two months to provide transportation for Kaiser Co. officials to Baltimore, Md., in connection with that contract. Some time ago a quick trip to Teterboro (N. J.) Airport was necessitated, for a part of the Kaiser plant assembly line. "We had the part back to Bristol within 1½ hours," added Hayden, the quick flight assuring there would be no hold-up in production. Quite a few calls are put in for package delivery service to other cities, and these are worked in with the chartered flights.

Cost is based on mileage, so that a flight costs no more for three persons than it does for one. The time element means much to local business men, who do not wish to waste time in traveling.

Some few of the jaunts have been to connect with overseas flights from Idlewild Airport, N. Y. The youngest passenger was a child one year old, and the Ende Service has provided transportation for a family consisting of parents and two children. Trips are made only to licensed airports. "One of the beauties of such a service is that we can take individuals to the more isolated areas if need be, to those who are serviced only by small airports."

"All of our business has generated within the past few months, mainly through the defense plants," commented Hayden in speaking of the expanding activity.

A trip from Bristol to Philadelphia's International Airport requires only 15 minutes as compared to 1½ hours by automobile; New York's LaGuardia field, 45 minutes, as compared to 3½ hours by car; Pittsburgh, two hours, compared to seven hours via highway; Scranton, one hour as against three hours by auto; and Washington, D. C., one hour and 20 minutes, compared to four hours by land.

"Business men can leave the airport which is only one mile from Bristol, located at Green Lane and Beaver Dam road, at eight a. m., arrive in New York 45 minutes later, conduct three hours of business, and be back in Bristol at one p. m., and still be able to put in a half-day's work at their own plant," states Mr. Hayden. "Ordinarily the trip by automobile or public conveyance would require a hard day's driving or traveling, sometimes taking 1½ days for the same type of business, necessitating an overnight stay. A number of defense plants in this area are taking advantage of the service due to the central location of the 3M airport."

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Charles E. Finch Rector, Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Andalusia

"Pray earnestly, sincerely, accurately, definitely, lovingly, trustingly, but pray, pray. And remember that prayer is the simplest utterance of the heart; that it is the laying hold of God's willingness, never the pressing of His reluctance. Take Jesus Christ, not only to be your Master, but likewise to be your friend; remembering that there can never come to you a darkness that he cannot make light for you, that there cannot be a weakness for which He is not able to give you strength, and that, even in the depths of your greatest need, you cannot possibly want to come to Him so much as He wants to have you come." — Phillips Brooks.

Almighty and everlasting God, who art always more ready to hear than we to pray, and art wont to give more than either we desire or deserve; pour down upon us the abundance of thy mercy; forgiving us those things whereof our conscience is afraid, and giving us those good things which we are not worthy to ask, but through the merits and mediation of Jesus Christ, thy Son, our Lord. Amen.
